CHRYSLIS

TOP: Dr. K. D. Briner,
director of Chrysalis; BELOW:
The Rev. Herman Diers.

*In the time we have been together in Chrysalis,
We have each, in our own way, grown.
Hopefully, we will continue to grow.
But for the moment let us reflect on these days.
Remembering yesterday, experiencing today,
And building for tomorrow.*

*YESTERDAY. Our first day at Wartburg.
We felt hopelessly lost in a sea
Of strange faces and names.
Moving from room to room,
Feelings of awe and hesitation added to the confusion.
Looking back, we remember hot September days,
Reading on the fire escape, Outfly,
Spoon River Anthology, an egg-cheese at Roy's,
And our humanities seminar.*

*Questions were raised, tough questions
About who we are and what makes us that way.
We attempted to bring into focus
Some of the many opinions and lifestyles
We had been exposed to.
Independent study became a reality
As we groped for ideas.*

*Self-discipline took on new meaning.
Certain days and events seemed so important yesterday.
But more significant, it seems, were the people we met
And the new opportunities afforded us.
We began, some of us for the first time,
To take a really hard look at ourselves.
It was time to try on a new personality,
Searching for an identity.
Frantically reaching out to people,
We exposed a part of ourselves.*

*Sometimes it hurt. We were intimidated and stifled.
Tensions flared
But as we established lasting friendships
Our confidence increased, our uncertainties dwindled,
And yesterday faded as we began to experience today.*

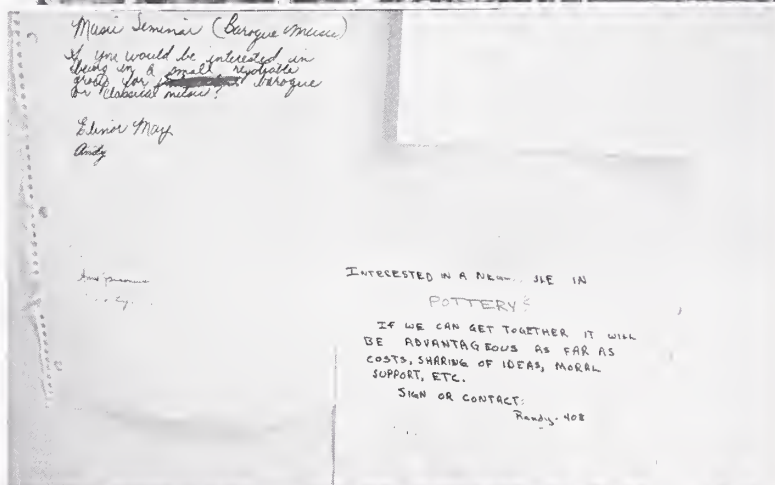

TODAY. Our new freedom brings responsibility.
 An event that yesterday had an audience of billions
 Is no longer unique, and sending men to the moon
 Loses some of its glamour.
 Instead, starvation, segregation and the population explosion
 Make daily headlines
 And we wonder if being number one
 Is worth bloated stomachs in India,
 Riots in Chicago, or overpopulation in China.

Communication as an adult becomes a reality
 And we soon learn that no one has all the answers.
 Events and days lose their importance.
 Knowledge takes on new meaning.
 Twenty-three four-year-olds teach us
 Love and joy and happiness at Christmas
 Amid puppets and ice cream and beaming faces.
 Time has passed too quickly
 And we must soon begin to build for tomorrow.

TOMORROW. We are forced to search for a role
 In a society we find far from ideal.
 The feelings of awe and hesitation we had yesterday
 Are magnified as we search for some certainty, some identity.
 The priorities we establish today will be tested.
 Some will be discarded, chalked up to experience.

Confronted with new challenges and decisions,
 We will be forced to accept 60 new freshmen into our program,
 Choose a major and find the money to pay for next term.
 Yesterday we could only see people's differences,
 Soon we must work to accept them.
 As we leave the securities of Chrysalis behind,
 We will once again be immersed into that frightening sea,
 Of strange faces and names. — Pam Beck and Drew
 Flathmann

COUNCIL ON RELIGIOUS LIFE

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE: We believe Christianity to be a very personal relationship between a single human being and God as well as special interaction between peoples. Council on Religious Life is a gathering of these many different, individual Christian relationships in an effort to provide the Wartburg Community with just as many varied ways of expressing one's personal faith in day-to-day life.

PROJECTS:

Worship: Sunday, Special and Mid-week

Guest Speakers Program: Assistant Attorney General Roxanne Conlin, Rev. Barbara Andrews, Pastor Richard Beckman, Dr. Darold Treffert

Life Seminars: Mental Health Seminar, Indian Culture Seminar, Drug Abuse Seminar

Special Projects: Tutoring Program, Elderly Visitation, Save the Children Sponsorship, Worship Center Committee, Coffeehouses, Letter Writing Campaigns

In these various projects, we, Council on Religious Life, have tried to put into words and actions the joy of life and the concern for people that we on Council feel.
